

A Statement of Expected Professional Integrity Standards and Consequences

While I promote team work and helping each other, unethical and unprofessional behaviour will not be tolerated. Specifically:

1. Code copying and plagiarism will NOT be tolerated. Any individual found using code from other sources (e.g. class members, the web, friends, etc.) will receive an automatic 0 on the entire lab component (25% off their final mark). Furthermore, the instructor will recommend to the director that an FD (failure for academic dishonesty) be awarded.
2. Anyone found hacking into another lab group's machine OR distributing a teammate's code without their knowledge (i.e. actively stealing intellectual property that does not belong to them) will minimally receive an automatic 0 on the entire lab component (25% off their final mark). Furthermore, the instructor will recommend to the director that an FD (failure for academic dishonesty) be awarded.
3. Similarly, anyone found copying during tests will receive a 0 for the entire testing component (25% for the midterm, 50% for the final exam). Furthermore, the instructor will recommend to the director that an FD (failure for academic dishonesty) be awarded.

In all cases of unethical and unprofessional behaviour, this behaviour will result in an automatic 0 for the class participation bonus. Additionally, a letter will be added to the student's file recommending that they be ejected from the program should this behaviour be demonstrated a second time in a different course.

Finally, the lectures and displays (and all other materials, including, but not limited to the labs and handouts) delivered or provided in this course (ense251) by Professor Shannon, including any visual or audio recording thereof, are subject to copyright owned by Professor Shannon. It is prohibited to record or copy by any means, in any format, openly or surreptitiously, in whole or in part, in the absence of express written permission from Professor Shannon any of the lectures, materials provided or published in any form during or from this course. This copyright also applies to any guest lecturers invited to give presentations to the class.

By signing the following form, you agree to:

- recognize your Professional responsibilities for ethical behavior within this course, and
- indemnify the instructor, Dr. Shannon, and all of her employees, agents and representatives, and to hold them harmless from any and all claims and liabilities (including lawyers' fees) resulting from any unethical or unprofessional behavior exhibited during this course.

Please note: Your lab assignments will not be marked until the instructor has received a signed copy of this form.
